- ✓ Skilled Professionals: To help students not just pass out as graduate but skilled professionals.

Need for the Course:

While only 8% of youth is unemployed, 53% have some kind of skill deprivation. This becomes critical as 90% of jobs in India are skill based. Youth employability is a bigger crisis than unemployment as poor-quality skills or education show up in low incomes rather than unemployment. 58% of graduates make less than Rs. 75,000 per year. (Source: <https://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/business/india-business/Indian-youth-are-simply-unemployable-Report/articleshow/2526720.cms>).

The above study clearly bring to the forefront the need of skills enhancement in the youth of the nation today. Gone are the days when securing good marks is all you needed to get a good job. Corporates have understood that although the students may have gained some subject knowledge, but the application part along with some basic soft skills are completely missing in these students. Hence, corporates have come up with proper recruitment processes that will filter out the candidates that possess the skill-sets the company requires. They are checking nothing but the employability of the students, which sadly it is quite low in our nation.

Without proper training and education regarding these skills, the students may face higher outcomes of rejection than what we hope for. This may also result in the students settling for jobs that offer subpar profiles and lower incomes. Our students have a right to better jobs and basic skill-sets which can be provided to them through these courses.

These skill-sets should not be the barrier between them and a potential job opportunity. Employability skills is the need of the hour and we should aim to enhance it with these courses.

Our Objective:

Our objective is to ensure our youth are employable. To make the students employable, we have to impart certain skills to the students that the corporates require. The subject knowledge is very efficiently provided by the colleges and universities they study in, but the other skills like decision making, time management, people management, negotiation skills, etc. are something that is not taught in a classroom and so our students are lacking in these basic skills.

According the latest LinkedIn reports, 57% of senior leaders today say that soft skills are more important than hard skills for their business today. The skills that the companies are looking for most are Creativity, Persuasion & Negotiation skills, Teamwork, Change Management & Adaptability, Time management, Analytical Reasoning & Decision Making, People Management, Sales and Corporate Communications. (Source: <https://learning.linkedin.com/blog/top-skills/the-skills-companies-need-most-in-2019--and-how-to-learn-them>)

Our courses have been designed based on these latest inputs. The course design is created to inculcate these skills that the corporates need. Student betterment and employability are the main objectives of these courses. We hope to create not just graduates but skilled graduates who can grab the best opportunities.

THEEM COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

Success through quality education!

Report on 8 Days Vocational Training on Advance Solid Works Practice

Objectives:

1. To encourage the development of creative mechanical design concepts and ideas.
2. Identifying the challenges in designing.
3. To provide information about advanced mechanical engineering design.

Outcomes:

Participants will be able to...

1. Understand the importance of computer aided design.
2. Transform the ideas into actual prototype development.
3. Able to grab opportunities in machine design.

On 29th December 2022, a Training on Advance SolidWorks Practices was started in the Automobile Engineering Department, Theem College of Engineering in collaboration with Shriish Techno solutions. The training had been scheduled from 29th December 2022 to 06th January 2023 (only working days).

The 8 days (40 hours) training program concentrated on various design aspects that are needed during mechanical design. The various practical design examples were discussed through extremely grounded and basic ideas. Numerous examples of computer aided design of mechanical elements like shafts, vessels, welding, etc. were explained with their basics.

The following mentioned topics were discussed during training:

- Advanced assembly making with advanced commands (e.g., advanced mating, mating gear contacts)
- Surfacing
- Sheet Metal Working
- SolidWorks Routing
- Weldments
- Geometric Modelling
- SolidWorks Simulation (assembly animation)
- Simulation interpretation (e.g., results report study and interpretation)

During the question hour session, the enthusiastic participants asked several queries and doubts regarding their personal challenges during various design problems.

Around 30 participants were present in the training from Mechanical & Automobile departments. It was a good learning experience for the faculty as well as the students about advanced designing of mechanical elements. The event coordinator of the training was Prof. Shubham V.

Report on 8 Days Vocational Training on Advance Solid Works Practice

Objectives:

1. To encourage the development of creative mechanical design concepts and ideas.
2. Identifying the challenges in designing.
3. To provide information about advanced mechanical engineering design.

Outcomes:

Participants will be able to...

1. Understand the importance of computer aided design.
2. Frame the ideas into actual prototype development.
3. Able to grab opportunities in machine design.

On 29th December 2022, a Training on Advance SolidWorks Practices was started in the Automobile Engineering Department, Theem College of Engineering in collaboration with Shriish Techno solutions. The training had been scheduled from 29th December 2022 to 06th January 2023 (only working days).

The 8 days (40 hours) training program concentrated on various design aspects that are needed during mechanical design. The various practical design examples were discussed through extremely grounded and basic ideas. Numerous examples of computer aided design of mechanical elements like shafts, vessels, welding, etc. were explained with their basics.

The following mentioned topics were discussed during training:

- Advanced assembly making with advanced commands (e.g., advanced mate, mating gear contacts)
- Surfacing
- Sheet Metal Working
- SolidWorks Routing
- Weldments
- Geometric Modelling
- SolidWorks Simulation (assembly animation)
- Simulation interpretation (e.g., results report study and interpretation)

During the question hour session, the enthusiastic participants asked several queries and doubts regarding their personal challenges during various design problems.

Around 30 participants were present in the training from Mechanical & Automobile departments. It was a good learning experience for the faculty as well as the students about advanced designing of mechanical elements. The event coordinator of the training was Prof. Shubham V.

Abstract— The sheet metal working processes are widely used in almost all industries like automotive, medical and mechanical industries. The major advantage for using sheet metal working process is to improve production rate and to reduce the cost per piece. The project mainly focuses on different sizing operations done on single setup of die punch. Presently these operations are done on four separate setups which leading to reduce the production rate and increasing cycle time with cost as well. Blanking is a manufacturing processes by which certain geometrical shapes are sheared of a sheet metal. Blanking is a process of producing at components. The entire periphery is cut. The cut-out piece is called Blank. The process is called Blanking and tool used is called Blanking tool. Blanking dies are known as cutting dies. They may be simple, combination, or compound. A Blanking die is generally cheaper to make and faster in operations than trim die. A single Blanking die can either produce either a right or left part, while to trim dies are needed for trimming one die for right-hand parts and another die for left-hand parts. When a sheared at blank drops through die block (die shoe) it piles up on top of the bolster plate. If the blank goes through the hole, it is called drop-blank die. A die in which sheared blank returns upwards is called a Return-blank die. Return-Blank dies are slower in operations and the cost more to build than drop-blank dies. If the Blanking die design is considered as the most important part in manufacturing of sheet metal. This project is also based on new design for die punch. The 3D parts are modeled in SOLIDWORKS and saved in .igs format so that it can be imported from any of the analysis software. As per the companies requirement cad drawings are drawn in SOLIDWORKS software. The various stress analysis, are carried out on Ansys 17.2.workbench analysis software and results are compared

Keywords— die, die materials, clearance

I. INTRODUCTION

Blanking is a manufacturing process by which engineering or industrial parts of certain geometrical shapes are sheared o sheet materials such that the produced parts do not need further or subsequent machining unless very high quality is required. Blanking is a manufacturing operation as old as the technology itself. Its applications range from components of very light to heavy appliances and machineries. Blanking is defined as the cutting of a work piece between two die components to a predetermined contour. During blanking, the part is subjected to complex solicitations such as deformation, hardening and crack initiation and propagation. The theoretical modeling of such processes is very difficult due to the complexity in describing the different stages of the whole shearing process starting with the elastic stage and ending with the total separation of the sheet metal. The behavior of the blank material during the blanking process can be divided into various stages. During the start of the process, the sheet is pushed into the die and the blank material is deformed, elastically. The process continues and the yield strength of the blank material is reached. Normally, the material underneath the punch is subjected to thinning. The plastic deformation causes rounding of the edge of the blank. During this stage, or possibly as early as during the plastic deformation stage, damage initiation followed by the nucleation and growth of cracks takes places. In most of the conventional blanking situations, ductile fracture occurs after shear deformation. This causes rough, dimpled rupture morphology on the fractured surface of the product. Finally, the work due to friction is dissipated when forcing (pushing) the slug through the die hole.

A. According to this criterion,the dies maybe classified as Cutting Dies are used to cut the metal. They utilize the cutting or shearing action. The common cutting dies are blanking dies, perforating dies, notching dies, trimming, shaving and nibbling dies.

Forming Dies change the appearance of the blank without removing any stock. Theses dies include bending, drawing and squeezing dies etc.

B. According to the die classification

According to this criterion, the dies may be classified as: single operation or simple dies, compound dies, combination dies, progressive dies, transfer dies and multiple dies. Simple dies or single action dies perform single operation for each stroke of the press slide. The operation may be one of the operation listed under cutting or forming dies. In compound dies, two or more operations may be performed at one station. Such dies are considered as cutting tools since, only cutting operations are carried out. In combinations die also, more than one operation may be performed at one station. It is difficult from compound die in that in this die, a cutting operation is combined with a bending or drawing operation, due to that it is called combination die .A progressive or follow on die has a series of operations. At each station, an operation is performed on a work piece during a stroke of the press. Between stroke the piece in the metal strip is transferred to

Abstract—In the world of Automobile, Many modern types of vehicles are invented with many features and specifications. Many vehicle are made for fun and entertainment purposes, but our is unique also because of it's single giant wheel i.e, mono wheel bike. So, Now we are going to convert the mono wheel IC engine bike to mono wheel electric bike. Due to it's less harmful nature and less pollution, noise and air pollution is eliminated from environment. Working with mono wheel can result more efficient way of transport, as it's size, weight and resistance are minimize and reduced. In dual wheel bikes one wheel provide the propulsive force and the other one steer the bike, while in mono wheel bike the single wheel itself has to do both propulsive force and steering. In this mono wheel bike, there is only one part which is there for the application of propulsive forces and braking i.e reducing the speed. For steering the mono wheel we have to lean on the side of where we have to take turn. This mono wheel has the motive of design to ride only for short distances. In our paper we describes the planning and process for mono wheel e bike. We have taken the reference from electric bike in the market to make mono wheel as a e bike. For our mono wheel e bike, it has less maintenance, less vibrations and having smaller size to park anywhere easily. It can be charged also easily at it's power station or at your home also .As In our mono wheel e bike we sit inside the wheel, the rider will be having fun and feeling crazy to ride it. In 19th century, the mono wheel bike were built are hand cranked and pedal powered and then. In 20th century most of the mono wheel vehicle are made on IC engines. Our researches only focuses on to reduce the pollution and reduce the weight and going to fabricate the mono wheel bike

I. INTRODUCTION

A mono wheel is a one-wheeled single-track vehicle similar to a unicycle. Instead of sitting above the wheel as in a unicycle, the rider sits either within the wheel or next to it. The wheel is a ring, usually driven by smaller wheels pressing against its inner rim. Most are single-passenger vehicles, though multi-passenger models have been built. Hand-cranked and pedal-powered mono wheels were patented and built in the late 19th century; most built in the 20th century have been motorized. This mono wheel bike looks like science fiction movie, but mono wheel are in fact real, today, mono wheels are generally built for fun and entertainment purposes.

Because of surging consciousness of pollution and energy shortage crisis, automobiles and motorcycles are no longer the best for transportation.

As the price of petroleum products growing now-a-days, there is a need of cheaper and more efficient form of transport. So for energy saving RYNO is created, what is RYNO? Well, in some way it's less than a motorcycle, but in other ways, it's so much more.

One-wheeled, electric-powered-vehicle

- Capable of operating at speed up to 40 kilometer per hour
- So in future electric vehicles are the demand of people, because of less pollution and saving of energy through electric vehicles
- The world speed record for a motorized mono wheel is 98.464 km/h

In mono wheel electric bike, there are components which will be fitted in mono wheel electric bike are given below:-

- Outer rim of 4.5 fit inner rim of 4 fit in inner rim other materials will be fit
- BLDC 500w motor, 48v batteries (4 battery of 12 v each)
- Transmission system for speed control steering
- Because of transmission system speed can be reduce and there should be not having chance of locking of brakes, so the mono wheel can't roll with passenger
- The main purpose was to design test and fabricate a fully functional one wheeled self-balancing bike which can be used as means of short distance transportation for a single person.

II. FABRICATION OF MONO-WHEEL E BIKE

A. Components

- Blcdc motor 750watt :

It is the propulsive force of mono wheel e bike, it has forward and reverse mobile motion, high rpm, high torque and having greater efficiency, firm response,
