A. P. J. Abdul Kalam

Who is Abdul Kalam ? Indian scientist and politician who played a leading role in the development of India's missile and nuclear weapons programs.

APJ Abdul Kalam was a very simple person; he was the youngest sibling of 5 and never even had a television at home. He preferred waking up early at 6:30 or 7:00 am and never was in any controversy because of his personal life. He lived his life as simple as possible. Only personal belongings to him had been a Veena, his books, a laptop, some clothes, and a CD player. When he died, he had no will, and all his possessions went to his brother.

Day-2

Session 1: Seminar on “Think like an Entrepreneur” by Mr. Rahul K. Jain.

This session was more of an interactive session wherein he asked the students first about any of the entrepreneurial experience or activities that they had. The students shared their experience and ideas. The speaker also conducted some fun interactive activities as well wherein he made the students understand that if we don't have much knowledge and experience about a specific thing say Cryptocurrency, we should invest small so that the risk would not be much and the amount of loss won't be much high as well. Through his speech he helped the students to think more like an Entrepreneur by focusing on things like Opportunity Recognition, Comfort with risk, Creativity, Innovation, Critical Thinking and Problem solving.

Below are the some of the pictures of the session

Session 2: Webinar on “Innovation Driven Entrepreneurship” by Mr. Santosh Khawale. Mr. Santosh D. Khawale, the speaker gave a wonderful session where he shared what entrepreneurship is and how innovation can play a magical role in entrepreneurship. He mentioned entrepreneurship is thought to be a key driver of economic growth. While there are myriad forms of entrepreneurship, ranging from self-employment to small and medium size enterprises to technology- and innovation-driven startups, recent research provides evidence that the relationship between entrepreneurship and economic growth is driven not by overall quantity of new firm entry, but rather by a small subset of high growth startups that are primarily categorized as innovation-driven. He defined Innovation Driven Entrepreneurship (IDE) as the pursuit of opportunities focused on products or repeatable services beyond the local market. Making a bold statement Mr. Santosh D. Khawale said we need more than just more start-ups who create low paying jobs. We need businesses that brings innovations to market that deliver such high value that customers are willing to pay a margin premium. This is what he was calling innovation driven entrepreneurship or innovation driven start-ups. These start-ups don't have to follow in the model of Silicon Valley and be focused on technology. Innovations can cover a wide range of areas. He gave example of innovating education and how students can be prepared with STEM skills that will prepare them to compete in the emerging creative economy.

Pictures of the session are as below

Why IDE?

Innovation is key competitive advantage and high growth potential.

Report On “Innovation Driven Entrepreneurship”

Objectives:

To demonstrate that exploiting a new opportunity is a process that can be planned, resourced, and manage.

Outcomes:

The session gave the clarity about innovation driven entrepreneurship. Entrepreneurship and innovation minors will be able to sell themselves and their ideas.

Theem College Of Engineering, Boisar in association with MoE's Innovation Cell (MIC) & AICTE organized a webinar on 26 July 2022. The program started at 3:00 PM with the welcome of all the participants and faculties by Prof. Rajesh Patil, IIC Convener. The speaker was introduced by Prof. Sneha Sankhe, HOD, Information Technology Engineering Dept. with a brief achievement. Mr. Santosh D. Khawale, the speaker gave a wonderful session where he shared what entrepreneurship is and how innovation can play a magical role in entrepreneurship. He mentioned entrepreneurship is thought to be a key driver of economic growth. While there are myriad forms of entrepreneurship, ranging from self-employment to small and medium size enterprises to technology- and innovation-driven startups, recent research provides evidence that the relationship between entrepreneurship and economic growth is driven not by overall quantity of new firm entry, but rather by a small subset of high-growth startups that are primarily categorized as innovation-driven. He defined Innovation Driven Entrepreneurship (IDE) as the pursuit of opportunities focused on products or repeatable services beyond the local market. Making a bold statement Mr. Santosh D. Khawale said we need more than just more start-ups who create low paying jobs. We need businesses that brings innovations to market that deliver such high value that customers are willing to pay a margin premium. This is what he was calling innovation driven entrepreneurship or innovation driven start-ups. These start-ups don't have to follow in the model of Silicon Valley and be focused on technology. Innovations can cover a wide range of areas. He gave example of innovating education and how students can be prepared with STEM skills that will prepare them to compete in the emerging creative economy.

The session continued till 4:30 pm. At the last students and faculty members were given opportunity to ask any query or doubt regarding the session if they had. Many students took the advantage of this session and solved their respective doubts with the speaker.

At valedictory Prof. Wasim gave vote of thanks to speaker and concluded the session.

2. To inculcate creativity and innovativeness in our students.

Outcomes:

1. Students were able to understand importance of “Process of Innovation Development & Technology Readiness Level (TRL)”, and its advantages.
2. Students were able to understand the importance of technology assessment.

A webinar on “Process of Innovation Development & Technology Readiness Level (TRL)” was held on 3rd March 2022. Mr. Yogesh Karunakar, Head EDC, IIR Labs K. C. College of Engineering was the guest speaker.

In his address Mr. Yogesh Karunakar explained the process of the innovation development and its stages. Citing an example of final year project and keeping users in mind at every stage of process. Mr. Yogesh Karunakar, elaborated the process of technology readiness and commercialisation of the technology. Technology Readiness Levels (TRLs) are a method for understanding the technical maturity of a technology during its acquisition phase. TRLs allow engineers to have a consistent datum of reference for understanding technology evolution, regardless of their technical background.

Further, Mr. Yogesh Karunakar explained how the technology transfer from innovator to industry takes place.

The session focussed on the innovation development and understanding technology readiness level, manufacturing readiness level and investment readiness level. A technology assessment is needed to determine the technology is ready or not to be commercialized. An approach has been used to assess the readiness of technology, namely Technology Readiness Level (TRL) adopted from NASA.

Prof. Nirajsingh Yeotikar, welcomed and introduced the speaker while Prof. K. N. Attarde proposed the vote of thanks.
